

ABB technology to optimize power generation at new plant in Berlin, Germany Facility to reduce CO₂ emissions by 100,000 tons a year

Power generated by German CHP plant to increase from 13% to 25% by 2020 as part of its Integrated Energy and Climate Change Program

300MW of electricity for 100,000 homes in Lichterfelde, a suburb of Berlin

ABB state-of-the-art power and automation technologies

Reduce CO₂ emissions by 100,000 tons a year 85 % as a fuel efficiency target

